BATTLE OF THE WHITE HOUSE.—John S. Gallaher, esq., of Jefferson county, a veteran of the press, and formerly an active member of the Virginia Free Press with some reminiscences of a Company of Riflemen to which he belonged in 1814, of its formation, and its march towards Washington on hearing of the invasion by the British under Gen. Ross and Admiral Cockburn. It had a share in a fierce little contest on the Potomac, known by us as the battle of the White House, a description of which follows:

"On Friday evening, the 2d of September, 1814, the company was marched to the White House, on the Potomac, a few miles below Mt. Vernon, to join Commodore David Porter, of the Navy, who had placed three six pounders on the bluff, in the attempt to check, on their way down, the two British frigates which had captured Alexandria. The preparations were imperfect, the Commodore not having been able to place in battery his guns of heavier calibre, or time to throw up a protection to the small guns. On the left of this bluff there was a strip of thick woods, the ground sloping towards the river, and here Capt. Humphrey's company was posted. The channel of the river runs close to the Virginia shore, with a easy rifle shot, and here the Sea-Horse and Euryalis frigate had to pass. On the morning of the 5th the wind sprang up freely, and Captain Gordon and his fleet set sail; the craft, laden with flour from Alexandria, keeping well towards the Maryland shore, and the large vessels passing within short range of our guns. When these ships were poured a volley from the three small cannons, whilst the riflemen fired rapidly at the men on deck and aloft; and although it seemed like a ludicrous effort to make battle with small arms upon heavily mounted ships, yet some execution was evidently done, as Capt. Gordon in his official report to the British Admiralty acknowledged the loss of 35 men on his raid up and down the Potomac. As an evidence of the spirit of the riflemen, it may be mentioned that some of the best marksmen actually went down to the river shore to get good aim at the men in sight. The showers of grape shot from the enemy were thick, fast, and furious, and the cannon were soon disabled by a skillful fire from the ships."

Here it was that the casualties to our company happened; and a view of the woods next day created surprise that any human beings could live five minutes through the galling fire which had scathed, as with the lightning's blast, every tree and sapling within range of the guns."

The Alexandria Artillery commanded by the late Capt. Griffith, and the first Lieut. of which was the late John D. Corse, of this place, were engaged in the fight, and Capt. G. and Lieut. C. were both honorably mentioned by Com. Porter in his official report of the affair. One or two of our citizens were killed in the battle—one of them Mr. Nutt and the other Mr. Allison, we believe. Besides the Alexandria artillery, other companies from Alexandria, were posted in the woods which were fired into the British—amongst them the Independent Blues.

AQUEDUCT BRIDGE, &c.—The Georgetown Courier, of today, says:

"The canal lessees, whose claims to dam our harbor with the aqueduct we opposed with full measure of ability while resistance was likely to avail anything, will prove to be, after all, not inimical, but of great good to this town. As earnest of what they intend to do, two of the company, Messrs. Philip Quigley and Wm. W. Dungan have just purchased that large tract of land on Arlington Heights, belonging to Mr. Ross for $16,000 in gold. The place is best known as the Hoover property; it includes Fort Corcoran and contains 141 acres. They meditate extensive improvements here, as may be inferred from their paying in cash so much money, and it is not improbable that in time quite a community will spring up on the opposite side of the river. The Canal, Railroad and Bridge Company, will construct a bridge forthwith over the aqueduct, and this too, without using the $25,000 stock of the Corporation. In a communication to the Councils last evening, they say that they decline to throw this amount of stock on the market; but they now propose that the Corporation shall pay them $5,000 when the bridge is finished. Of course this proposition will meet with general favor, as it is in effect similar to the previous arrangement."

UNLAWFUL HUNTING.—The order of Gen. Stoneman relative to unlawful hunting upon the land set our citizens, we hope will have the effect of putting a stop to the evil. A party of nine colored men was formed in this place, yesterday to be armed with towline pieces and accoutred with shot pouches and bird bags, to take a morning tour the fields in this neighborhood, to-morrow, irrespective of the rights of ownership or the damage they might do. We, of course, do not approve of military orders in civil matters—but if these offences must need be, we are always pleased when the orders are designed for good.

BANKRUPT.—The following named persons, residing in this section of the State, have availed themselves of the benefits of the bankrupt law: Leopold Beudheim, H. K. Bradshaw, Samuel Leach, George W. Harrison, R. E. White and George W. Harper, of Alexandria; Robert E. Devine, J. M. Mount, W. B. Sry, S. P. Rogers, Maudley Mount, and Absalom Riley, of Loudoun county; B. M. Powell, Oscar Moore, and Martin Maddux, of Fairfax county; John H. Ford and F. B. Carter, of Clarke county; and S. C. Lindsay, of Fauquier county.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.—A lodge of this Order has been formed in this city.

PROPERTY SALES.—The auction sale of property at the Mayor's office, this morning, was but thinly attended, and the rates at which the sales were made were considered extremely low. It can hardly be imagined that capitalists could make better investments than in the real estate of this city. A comfortable two story brick dwelling house on the south side of Duke street, between Water and Union, was sold to Captain James Winsor, for $900. The brick store and dwelling on Royal street, near the market house, now occupied by Mr. Charles Brill as a stove and tinware store, was sold to that gentleman, for $3,050. Six sixteenths of a lot on the east side of St. Asaph street, between Prince and Duke, and a lot adjoining it on the north were sold to Mr. Wm. H. McKnight, the former for $150 and the latter for $100. These sales were made by John H. Parrott, auctioneer.

Messrs. Green & Wise, real estate agents, sold to-day by private sale a brick house and lot on Wolfe street, between Fairfax and Royal, belonging to the estate of Richard Sheehy, to M. Geisberger, for $860 cash.

PAUPERS.—A colored man, a cripple from birth, named David Duckett, a former slave of Dr. Nevitt, of Fairfax county, and for some time past an inmate of the Poor's House of that county, made his way to this city this morning, and applied for admission into the Alexandria Alms House. Of course his application could not be granted, for this county is hardly able to take care of its own paupers; and he was accordingly sent back to the Fairfax Poor's House, from which he had but a short time since taken his departure. A great many colored people from the country, without visible means of support, have lately made their appearance here, but how they will manage to exist through the winter remains to be seen.

THE MARKET.—This morning, was bountifully supplied with country produce of almost every description. There was no change, however, in the prices of vegetables. Sweet potatoes $1.50 per bushel. Irish potatoes $1 to $1.25 per bushel. Lima beans 12.50 cts per quart. Green corn 12.20 cts. per dozen. Butter 45.50 cts. per lb. fresh. Eggs 30.35 cts per dozen. Country pork 15.48 cts. per pound, by the quarter. The Butchers had excellent fresh meats at former prices. There was a small supply of fresh fish—rock at 40 cts. per bunch; catfish 20.25 cts. per bunch.

BROTHERHOOD OF THE UNION.—The Supreme Circle, B. U. (H. B.) C. A., is in session at Washington, D. C. A., and has representatives from all the Circles on the American continent. Alexandria is represented by Past E. W., Geo. Duffey and Lucas, of the Jefferson Circle No. 2, and by Past E. W. Warde and Coleman, from Mount Vernon Circle No. 1.

AQUA CREEK ROUTE.—By reference to the advertisement of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Route, in another column of the Gazette, it will be seen that he hours of departure of the boats of that line have been changed, and that 7 o'clock morning, and evening is now the time of their leaving the Washington city wharf. They stop here on each trip.

ALEXANDRIA, VA.—We intended to say a word this week about this ancient Virginia city, but have been compelled to defer it until a more convenient season. In the meantime, we feel a pleasure in expressing the wish that a better, brighter day will dawn upon the old city, when its business men shall strike hands with us through the railway connection soon to be consummated.—Rockingham Register.

NARROW ESCAPE.—A colored man, this morning, before day, was discovered in the yard of Mr. John Nightingill's residence, on Water street, near the tunnel, stealing cabbages. A pistol, heavily loaded, was fired at the thief, and he narrowly escaped a bullet through his body. He jumped the fence and made off down the hill.

EINTRACHT.—This excellent German Club has resumed its winter evening's entertainments—and will continue them during the season. The association was lately presented by Mr. Drifus, with a handsome U. S. flag, for which he received thanks. All the meetings of the Eintracht are well attended and enjoyed.

CANAL NAVIGATION.—It is said that Mr. Cathcart, of Cumberland, will soon build several canal boats to be propelled by steam, on a plan which will prevent the abrasion of the canal banks, and which will, if they are successful, lessen the cost of transportation and expedite the passage from the coal mines.

IMPROVEMENT.—Mr. W. A. Smoot, the owner of the lot at the northeast corner of Union and Princess streets, Fishtown, contemplates erecting there a large warehouse, and improving the wharf property in front; and, as a preliminary move, had the city surveyor there this morning, laying off his lines.

CUMBERLAND COAL.—The arrivals of boats from Cumberland, by the canal, have considerably increased, and as vessels are scarce, in consequence of the high freights paid at Philadelphia, it is probable that a large accumulation of coal will occur at the depots in this city.

MARKET BUSINESS.—The market wagons and carts, around the market house, on Royal and Fairfax streets, made that neighborhood have a busy appearance. A large number of persons from the country brought produce in to-day.

DAILY STAGE LINE.—There is a daily mail stage line from Leesburg to Winchester, and points between these places.

YUCATAN AND CENTRAL AMERICA.—The lecture of Colonel Proctor R. Smith, last night, at the Assembly Rooms, on Yucatan and Central America, for the benefit of the Orphan Asylum, was a very interesting and instructive discourse, and afforded an agreeable evening's entertainment to those who were present. The audience was small, as, unfortunately, Alexandrians are not a lecture-loving people—and, as a consequence, they lose many treasures.

POLICE REPORT.—Affairs at the Mayor's and Magistrate's offices this morning were very quiet; one case for disorderly conduct, the parties having created a disturbance at a restaurant, on Union street, this morning, at the former, and a minor's case of assault, at the latter, being the only business before these tribunals.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

No. 102 Session of Congress.
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—General Schenck has telegraphed to this city, from Dayton, Ohio, October 9, that he and Senator Morgan have decided that it is not necessary to invite a quorum of members of Congress to meet here on the sixteenth of October. Therefore, on that day, in accordance with the concurrent resolutions adopted on the twenty-first of September, the presiding officers will adjourn their respective Houses until the fifteenth of November.

Asylums for Disabled Soldiers.
 SANDUSKY, Ohio, Oct. 10.—The Managers of the National Asylum for disabled Volunteers met yesterday in Jay Cook's residence, at Gibraltar.

Among those present were Gen. B. F. Butler, of Massachusetts; Ex-Gov. Smith, of New Hampshire; Judge H. L. Bond, of Baltimore; Gen. Martindale, of New York; and Hon. L. B. Gauckler, of Ohio.

The report showed that several of the asylums are in good condition with the number of their inmates on the increase. The Central Asylum has $50—and over 1,000 have been added at the branch asylums. New buildings will soon be ready with increased accommodations for nearly a thousand more. Thanks were returned to Mrs. Lowell Putnam, of Roxbury, Mass., for a munificent donation of books, pictures, &c., valued at $5,000. Appropriations were made for several asylums, and much other business was transacted.

The next meeting will be held in Washington, From Alaska.
 SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—Alaska advices to Sept. 12th have been received. Gen. Davis and staff had left Sitka for the North. Comfortable quarters for the troops are being put up at Stychcon. The Indians are quiet. Small-pox prevails to a slight extent among a few tribes.

ON WEDNESDAY, the 21st day of next month, (October 12, 1868), at 12 o'clock, in front of the Mayor's office, in the city of Alexandria, I will sell, by auction, the well-known FARM "SALISBURY," situated in the county of Fairfax, Va., on both sides of Flat Rock Run, two miles northwest of the village of Centerville, 7 miles from Fairfax Court House, and 10 miles from R. R., and 22 miles from Alexandria by turnpike road, and adjoining the lands of James Green and others. This farm is very extensively known as originally the seat of the Love family, and is generally considered as naturally the most fertile body of land in the county. The present tract contains 507 acres; but I will sell only 200 acres, including the original homestead, and all the buildings, an abundance of water, about 40 acres of rich creek bottom, and about 20 acres of timber, all of which will be sold from the balance of the tract by a straight line running across the entire place, and parallel with the county road which forms its front boundary; will be nearly square in shape; will front its whole acreage on the county road, and will consist of a large body of land, and a small body of land, it is rarely excelled. The buildings, beautifully situated in a fine natural landscape, are commodious and numerous, and would be very comfortable with moderate repair. A large body of land is offered at auction, and purchasers are solicited to examine it before the day of sale.

TERMS.—One-third cash, and the residue in one and two years; the deferred payments to be secured by bond of the purchaser and deed of trust on the premises.
